We'll handle the marketing.

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

You didn't start your business to spend evenings staring at a blinking cursor wondering what to post. This guide fixes that.

Inside you'll find 7 post formats that work for any home services trade.

Each one includes:

- Why the post works, so you understand it, not just copy it.
- What to photograph or capture.
- A caption template you can customize in 5 minutes.
- A pro tip to get more reach or saves.

A note: every time you see [City], [Name], or [service], that's your cue to make it specific. Specific beats generic every time on social media. Also don't forget hashtags, they aren't included within this guide because they need to be specific to your company or post.

BEFORE & AFTER

WHY THIS POST WORKS

People scroll past words but stop for transformations.
This post shows what you do, and builds instant credibility.

WHAT TO CAPTURE

A photo of the job site before you started, and one after you finished.
Dirty drain vs. clean pipes.
Overgrown lawn vs. fresh cut.
Dark crawl space vs. new insulation.

CAPTION TEMPLATE

"Before this week's job, the homeowner had been dealing with [problem] for [timeframe]. Here's what we found and what we left behind."
[City, State]

PRO TIP Don't wait for a dramatic transformation. A modest before/after beats a professional photo shoot. Authenticity wins on social.

“3 SIGNS YOU NEED US”

WHY THIS POST WORKS

This post does your sales pitch for you. It educates people on their own problem, positions you as the expert, and gets shared by homeowners sending hints to family.

WHAT TO CAPTURE

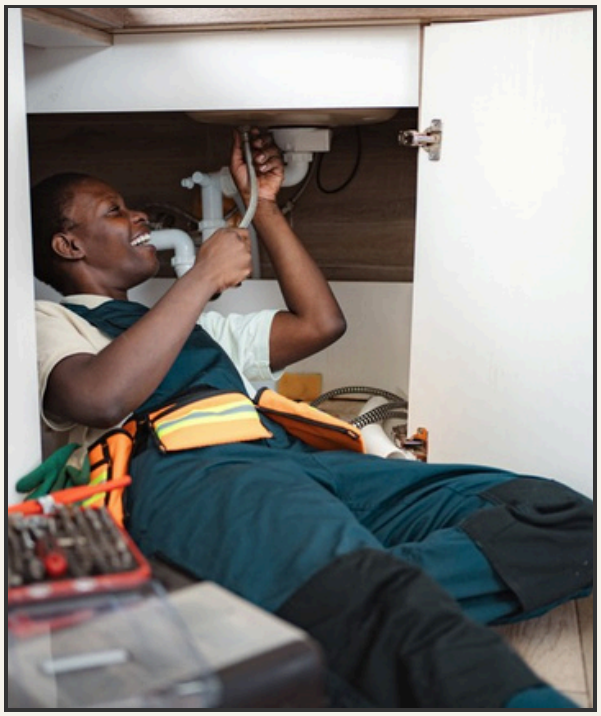

A numbered list of warning signs specific to your trade.
e.g. signs your HVAC filter is overdue, your tree is a liability, your electrical panel needs inspection.

CAPTION TEMPLATE

“3 signs your [system/situation] needs attention — and most homeowners miss #2:"
1. [Sign one]
2. [Sign two — the one they miss]
3. [Sign three]
If you're seeing any of these, send us a message. Free estimates always.

PRO TIP Make sign #2 the surprising one since it is right in the middle. That's what gets shared and saved in ‘tips’ folders.

MEET THE TEAM

WHY THIS POST WORKS

People hire people, not logos. A face and a name drops your guard instantly and builds trust faster than any testimonial.

WHAT TO CAPTURE

A photo of one crew member (or yourself) at work or holding a tool. A candid shot beats a posed headshot every time.

CAPTION TEMPLATE

"This is [Name]. [He/She/They]'ve been with [Company] for [X] years and [fun fact or specialty]."
When you call us, there's a good chance [Name] is the one showing up at your door.
We're a local crew. We live and work in [City].

PRO TIP Rotate this across team members month by month. Each one builds community with a different audience segment.

THE QUICK WIN

WHY THIS POST WORKS

Giving free value sounds counterintuitive, but it builds the trust that turns a follower into a customer. The homeowner who learned something from you calls you first.

WHAT TO CAPTURE

One simple, usable tip.
changing an air filter, checking for water meter leaks, spotting overloaded circuits. Keep it to one thing.

CAPTION TEMPLATE

"Quick tip for [City] homeowners:"
[One-sentence tip that is easy to understand.]
This takes less than [X] minutes and can save you [cost/problem] down the road.
Save this post, you'll want it.

PRO TIP End with 'save this post.' It signals to the algorithm that your content is worth spreading — and people actually do it.

SEASONAL REMINDER

WHY THIS POST WORKS

Timing is everything in home services. A well-timed reminder hits a homeowner right when their problem is top of mind and you're already there.

WHAT TO CAPTURE

A heads-up that something needs attention this season.
pre-summer AC tune-ups, fall gutter cleaning, pre-freeze pipe checks.
Pair it with a limited-availability angle if you're actually busy.

CAPTION TEMPLATE

"Heads up, [City]. [Seasonal situation] is coming fast, and our schedule is filling up."
[One sentence: why this matters/what could go wrong if ignored.]
We're booking [service] appointments now. First come, first served.
DM us or call [phone number] to grab a spot.

PRO TIP Post this 3–4 weeks before the season hits, not when it's already started. That's when homeowners are planning, not panicking.

CUSTOMER STORY

WHY THIS POST WORKS

Testimonials are powerful, but a story is more powerful. Walking through one customer's situation makes the outcome feel real to someone in the same boat.

WHAT TO CAPTURE

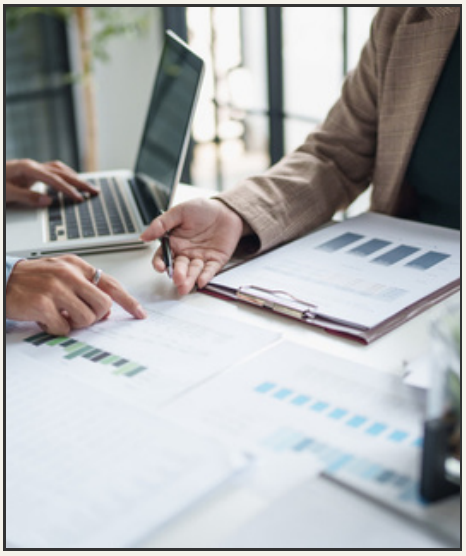

Tell the story of a recent job in a way for potential customers to easily understand. (i.e. don't use jargon or industry specific language)
This is not a sales pitch. Just what the customer was dealing with and how it got resolved.

CAPTION TEMPLATE

"Last [day of the week], we got a call from a homeowner in [neighborhood]. [Describe the situation in 1-2 sentences.]"
We got out there same day. [Describe the fix.] By [time], they had [outcome].
That's what we're here for. Got a situation like this? Call or DM us we'll get you taken care of.

PRO TIP Get permission to tag the customer or mention their neighborhood. Local specificity makes the story feel real to other locals.

DIRECTLY ASK

WHY THIS POST WORKS

Most trades businesses never just ask for the business on social. This post does just that, simply and without being pushy. Plenty of people are quietly ready to call and just need the nudge.

WHAT TO CAPTURE

A clean, direct post that tells people what you do, who you do it for, and how to reach you. There is no need for fluff or a gimmick, just a clear invitation.

CAPTION TEMPLATE

"If your [system/situation] has been on your to-do list, we'd love to help."
[Company name] serves [City] and surrounding areas. We're [licensed/insured], [years] in business, and we pick up the phone. Message us here or call [phone number]. Free estimates, no pressure.

PRO TIP Run this post once a month minimum. Pair it with a pinned comment directing people to the link in your bio. (which should be connected to your website or google business profile)

We started Done For You Marketing because we kept seeing the same thing. Hardworking small business owners doing everything themselves, and watching their marketing fall to the bottom of the to-do list.

Not because they didn't care, because there simply weren't enough hours in the day.

We're a small team with a big belief: you shouldn't have to choose between running your business and growing it.
